3. The Promoters and Directors of our company do not have interests in the Company other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits.

The Promoters and some of the Directors are interested in the Company only to the extent of their shareholding in the Company. For more details, see the paragraphs on “Capital Structure – Capital Built up of Promoters”, “Our Management – Interest of Directors” and “Financial Information of the Company – Annexure 14 on Transactions with Related Parties” under Sections IV, VI and VII respectively of this Draft Prospectus.

4. We may fail to attract and retain qualified designers and craftsmen as competition for skilled personnel is intense.

The industry in which we operate is labour intensive and our success depends in large part upon our ability to attract, hire, train and retain qualified designers and craftsmen. While we believe we have a satisfactory working relationship with our labourers and employees, we remain subject to the risk of labour disputes and adverse employee relationships. These potential disputes and adverse relations could result in work stoppages or other events that could disrupt our business operations or the development of our projects, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Further, there is significant competition for professionals in India with skills necessary to perform the services. Increased competition for these professionals could have an adverse effect on us. High attrition rates among designers and craftsmen could result in a loss of domain and process knowledge, which could result in poor products. A significant increase in the turnover rate would increase our recruiting and training costs and decrease our operating efficiency, productivity and profit margins and could lead to a decline in demand for our products.

5. Our success depends largely on our senior management and our ability to attract and retain our key personnel.

Our success depends on the continued services and performance of the members of our management team and other key employees. If one or more members of our senior management team are unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, our business could be adversely affected. Attracting and retaining scarce top quality managerial talent has become a serious challenge facing companies in India. Competition for senior management in the industry in which we operate in India is intense, and we may not be able to retain our existing senior management or attract and retain new senior management in the future. As such, any loss of our senior management personnel or key employees could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

- 6. The company has not registered any of its Trade Mark. The company in future may register it depending on the future requirements. Any delay in making an application and/or granting registration or in obtaining registration could result in loss of brand equity and the company's right to use the said brand.

The company is required to make an application to the Trade Mark Registry, Gujarat to register all its brands, company name-“Darshan Orna” and logo-“”. The company has not made application for registration of its trademarks. The company depending on the future requirements may make an application to the Trade Mark Registry, Gujarat to register its brand/logo. While filing application for registration if the same is not accepted or if the oppositions filed against the trademark application if any, are successful, our company may lose the statutory protection available to it under the Trade Marks Act, 1999 for such trademarks. For further details please refer to the chapter titled ‘Government and Other Approvals’ beginning on page no.151 of the Draft Prospectus.

- 7. We do not register our jewellery designs under the Designs Act, 2000 and we may lose income if our designs are duplicated by competitors.

We develop and design most of our jewellery products. We select the jewellery designs from amongst the designs made by the designing team, based on market trends and our requirements in each of our retail stores. Due to the competitive nature of the jewellery markets in which we operate, innovative designs remain the key differentiators, which therefore possess short life span. Consequently, jewellery designs change on a frequent basis and hence we do not register these designs under the Designs Act, 2000. Our designs therefore are not protected under the Designs Act, 2000 and if competitors copy our designs it could lead to loss of income, which could adversely affect our reputation and our results of operations.

- 8. Any change in our consumer's likes, preferences or a change in their perception regarding the quality of our products may negatively affect the image and our reputation and in turn affect our revenues and profitability.

The industry in which we operate is highly competitive and where goodwill and reputation are of huge significance. Although we have been in the business of dealing in all kinds precious and semi-precious metals including gold, silver and platinum, precious, semi-precious and imitation stones, including diamonds, pearls and gems, ornaments. Any change in consumer's Likes, preferences or a change in their demands regarding the design & quality of our products, may negatively affect the image and reputation of our products and consequently that our Company. Further, such incidences may expose our Company to liabilities and claims, adversely affect our reputation, growth and profitability.

- 9. We have not entered into any long-term contracts with any of our customers and orders are not backed-up by a letter of credit facility.

We do not have any long-term contracts with our customers and any change in the buying pattern of the customers could adversely affect the business of our Company. Although we have satisfactory business relations with our customers and have received continued business from them in the past, there is no certainty that the same will continue in the years to come and may affect our profitability.

- 10. Any fluctuation in price and supply of gold, which is a major raw material for the manufacture of our products, could adversely impact our income.

Gold is the primary raw materials used in our manufacturing process. Price of gold is volatile in nature and is linked to the international commodity indices such as Rogers International Commodity Index. Although we source gold and sell our products on an unfixed basis, any increase in the prices of gold shall result in the consequent increase in the price of our products. Such increase in price of our products may adversely affect their demand. However, particularly sharp increases and volatility in commodity costs usually result in a time lag before increased commodity costs are fully reflected in retail prices. Further, any increase in commodity cost is likely to impact demand for our products during high price periods. There is no certainty that such price increase will be sustainable and downward pressure on gross margins and income may occur.

- 11. Our results of operations could be adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of disputes with our employees.

We employ significant number of employees. We are unable to assure you that we will not experience disruptions to our operations due to disputes or other problems with our work force, which may lead to strikes, lock - outs or increased wage demands. Such issues could have an adverse effect on our business, and results of operations.

12. Our business is partly dependent on factors affecting consumer spending that are out of our control.

Jewellery purchases are discretionary and are often perceived to be an exercise in luxury. As a result, our business is sensitive to a number of factors that influence consumer spending. The price of jewellery relative to other products, everyday household as well as luxury items, influences the conditions, consumer confidence in future economic and political conditions, economic slowdown or fears of economic slowdown, consumer debt, disposable consumer income, conditions in the housing market, consumer perceptions of personal well-being and security, fuel prices, inclement weather, interest rates, sales tax rate increases, inflation, and war or fears of war. In addition, we compete with other retail categories, for example electronics, travel, etc. for consumers' discretionary expenditure. Therefore, the price of jewellery relative to other products influences the proportion of consumers' expenditure that is spent on jewellery.

13. The future operating results are difficult to predict and may fluctuate or adversely vary from the past performance.

The company's operating results may fluctuate or adversely vary from past performances in the future due to a number of factors, many of which are beyond the company's control. The results of operations during any financial year or from period to period may differ from one another or from the expected results operation. Its business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected by, inter alia, a decrease in the growth and demand for the jewellery offer by the company or decrease in the demand gold and silver, and any strategic alliances which may subsequently become a liability or non-profitable. Due to various reasons including the above, the future performance may fluctuate or adversely vary from our past performances and may not be predictable.

14. Our failure to keep up with industry trends may affect our results of operations.

New products, such as machine made Italian jewellery, have been contributed to the jewellery industry over the last few years. Although our in house design team has allowed us to maintain a high portfolio on that we shall be able to consistently keep up with industry trends which may adversely affect our results of operations. Introduction of any new portfolios in jewellery makes and designs may affect our current business. Further, we have not entered into any confidentiality or non-disclosure agreement with any of our karigars and consequently, our jewellery designs may be shared openly in the market which may damage our results of operations.

15. The success of our Company mainly depends upon the quality of jewellery we manufacture and sell to our retailers and our ability to retain the present number of retailers and attract newer retailers. Any failure in retaining or attracting retailers on year on year basis and any decline in quality of our jewellery will impact the business and the revenues earned by the Company.

Since, we sell our products to the retailers, the quality of jewellery delivered, the ability to improve and to add value to the retailers' serviced and constant up-gradation of design and pattern of the jewellery manufactured, would assist the company in growing its popularity and visibility amongst its retailers.

In case the Company fails to maintain and enhance its current market position, the quality of jewellery sold and failure to attract current and newer retailers the revenues earned by the company may be affected.

16. Failure to develop and introduce new jewellery designs that achieve customer acceptance could result in a loss of market opportunities.

As on date, we have a jewellery designing team of approximately 5 members at given point who are responsible for introducing new and innovative designs for our jewelries. Our business highly depends on innovative designs to meet the expectations of our customers. Development of new designs is subject to unpredictable and volatile factors beyond our control, including end user preferences and competing products. In addition, due to the competitive nature of the jewellery market in which we operate, the innovative designs remain the key differentiators, which normally possess short life span. We need to continuously invest in research and development to develop new and differentiated products for our customers. Further, some or all of such products may not provide adequate returns to commensurate with our investments. Our products could also be rapidly rendered obsolete by non-acceptance of such products. Unexpected technical, operational, deployment, distribution or other problems could delay or prevent the timely introduction of new products, which could result in a loss of market opportunities.

- 17. Our business is occasional in nature with significant sales during the festive season and other significant seasons. In case, we are unable to cope up with our service during this time, then our revenues and profitability will be affected and have a negative effect on our image and brand.

Our business is occasional in nature with a significant proportion of our sales generated during the festive seasons like Raksha Bandhan, Christmas, Diwali season, Valentine's Day, Mother's Day, Akshay Tritiya Guru Pushya Nakshatra etc and during Marriages seasons. Any significant shortfall in sales during these periods would affect our profitability and we would experience adverse effect on our results of operations.

Further, we have limited ability to compensate for shortfalls in our sales or income during such periods by introducing changes in operations and strategies for rest of the year, or to recover from any extensive disruption; for example due to sudden adverse changes in consumer confidence, global pricing of gold & silver or lower disposable income. As a result of the above, our half yearly financial results may not be comparable or a meaningful indicator of our futuristic performance. Any analysis of our financial results on a quarter-on-quarter basis may be perceived as negative indicator of our growth, which may adversely impact market price of our Equity Shares.

- 18. If we are unable to introduce new product in line with the changing consumer preferences, we may face decline in demand for our products.

Jewellery business is subject to changing consumer patterns and preferences, which is difficult to predict. We are required to constantly improvise our product range, understand consumer tastes and preferences focus on innovative designing and introduce new products and patterns to meet the changing consumer needs. If we are unable to meet consumer expectations, it may adversely affect our competitiveness, reduce our market share, lead to higher inventory costs and decrease our sales.

- 19. Strong competition in the jewellery sector could decrease the market share and compel the company to either reduce the cost charged or increase the payments made to the designers. This may have an adverse impact on the enrolments, revenues and profitability.

The wholesaler jewellery sector is highly fragmented and competitive. The Company would not only compete with organized players but also a high percentage of unorganized entities such as individual jeweler's, retailer stores, jewellery showrooms and galleries and small scale companies. Some of them may offer better designs and patterns to the clients and may be capable of providing more personalized services to each client due to the smaller number of orders placed with them. Further, these unorganized entities offer their services at highly competitive prices having well established presence in their local markets. Aggressive discounting by competitors, including liquidating excess inventory, may also adversely impact our performance in the short term. This is particularly the case for easily comparable pieces of jewellery, of similar quality, sold through stores that closely resemble to those that we operate.

In addition, there are minimal entry barriers in this sector and hence the may also face competition from new entrants. Some of its employees, who disassociate themselves from the Company, may also compete with the Company.

Additionally, the Company may lose its important designers if it is unable to match the remuneration offered by its competitors. Any reduction or increase in salary to be made to the any if its employees may have an adverse impact the company, its revenues and profitability.

- 20. Our Company had negative cash flow in recent fiscals, details of which are given below. Sustained negative cash flow could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

(Rs. in Lakhs)

| Particulars | December 2015 | As on March 31 | | | | |
|--|----------------|----------------|-------------|-------------|---------------|-------------|
| | | 2015 | 2014 | 2013 | 2012 | 2011 |
| Net cash from (used in) Operating activities | (85.41) | (264.40) | 5.91 | (3.06) | (20.27) | - |

Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet its capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If we are not able to generate sufficient cash flow, it may adversely affect our business and financial operations. For further details please refer to the section titled 'Financial Statements' and chapter titled 'Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations' beginning on page no. 126 and page no. 141 respectively, of this Draft Prospectus.

- 21. Our Company has not taken any insurance coverage which may protect us against certain operating hazards and from all losses and this may have an adverse impact on the financial conditions of the business.

Our Company has not taken any insurance cover at present. Hence we may not be able to protect ourselves from any damage or loss suffered by us. To the extent that we suffer any loss or damage, the operational results of the company could be adversely affected. The company does not maintain a directors and officers liability insurance policy for the directors or key managerial personnel of the Company. For details of our insurance cover, please see section "Insurance Policies" on page 97.

- 22. We have entered into, and will continue to enter into, related party transactions.

The company has entered into transactions with certain related parties, including its subsidiary/ group Companies and Directors. For further details regarding the related party transactions, see the disclosure on related party transactions contained in the financial statements included in this Draft Prospectus and, also see the section "Related Party Transactions" on page 139.

- 23. Our inability to manage growth could disrupt our business and reduce our profitability.

Any organic growth in future and other acquisitions would place significant demands on its operational, financial and internal controls across the organization. In particular, continued expansion increases the challenges shall face in recruiting, training and retaining sufficient skilled, technical, sales and management personnel; adhering to its high quality and process execution standards; maintaining high levels of client satisfaction; managing a larger number of clients in a greater number of industry sectors; integrating expanded operations while preserving its culture, values and entrepreneurial environment; and developing and improving its internal administrative infrastructure, particularly its financial, operational, communications, and other internal systems. Any inability on our part to manage such growth could disrupt our business prospects, impact our financial condition and adversely affect our results of operations.

- 24. Delays or defaults in client payments could result in reduction of profits.

The Company regularly commits resources to slew of projects prior to receiving advances or other payments from clients in amounts sufficient to cover expenditures on projects as it has incurred. It may be subject to working capital shortages due to delays or defaults in client payments. If clients default in their payments on a project to which the Company has devoted significant resources or if a project in which it has invested significant resources is delayed, cancelled or does not proceed to completion, it could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

25. If our job work fails, we may not be able to continue manufacturing jewellery, or may experience difficulty in achieving acceptable yields and product performance.

We have tie up with job workers who manufacture our jewellery on regular basis. Although, we have maintained necessary back-up job workers for our critical operations including casting and investments; if our job workers fail to manufacture the jewelries on time, we might not be able to continue manufacture jewellery or may incur substantial cost for manufacturing from a third unknown party. Any failure in manufacturing could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Further, the technology for the manufacture of jewellery is complex and is continually being modified in an effort to improve yields product performance. The quality of the raw materials used, impurities such as dust and other contaminants, difficulties in the manufacturing process, or malfunctions of any or all equipments or facilities used by the job workers can lower yields, cause quality control problems, and further interrupt the functioning of our manufacturing process.

26. Ineffective execution of marketing programs and reduced marketing expenditure could have an adverse effect on our sales.

Being a wholesaler in jewellery, our primary factors in determining retailers buying decisions in the wholesale business includes customer confidence, price points for our products, timely delivery of our products, designs together with the level and quality of customer service. The ability to differentiate our products from competitors by its branding, marketing and advertising programs is an important factor in attracting retailers and consumers. As a result, from time to time we will be undertaking brand building exercise and marketing programs to enhance our brand visibility. If these programs are ineffectively executed or the level of support for them is reduced, it could affect our ability to attract customers. Further, we cannot assure you that we will be able to accurately estimate our marketing expenditure for wholesale and or retail operations. In case our marketing expenses are lesser than market standards, our marketing programs may be perceived ineffective. However, if our marketing expenses are higher than the market standards, it may adversely affect our income and results of operations.

27. Failure to manage our inventory could have an adverse effect on our net sales, profitability, cash flow and liquidity.

For our wholesales operations, our results of operations are dependent on our ability to effectively manage our inventory. To effectively manage our inventory, we must be able to accurately estimate customer demand and supply requirements and purchase new inventory accordingly. If our management has misjudged expected customer demand it could adversely impact the results by causing either a shortage of merchandise or an accumulation of excess inventory. Further, if we fail to sell the inventory we manufacture or purchase, we may be required to recycle our inventory, which would have an adverse impact on our income and cash flows.

28. We are dependent upon key suppliers for gold, silver and polished diamonds and any disruption in their supply could disrupt our business and adversely affect our financial results.

Historically, gold and silver contributed significantly to our total raw material cost. We purchase gold and silver from various suppliers on either pre-agreed rates or flexible spot-rates linked to the prevailing market benchmark. Our key suppliers of gold and silver are M/s Mahavir Bullion and M/s Suidhi Gold Private Limited etc. However, we do not enter into any long term agreements with our suppliers and our arrangements with them are on short-term and spot basis. If we are unable to source gold and silver at commercially acceptable prices, or at all, it may affect our ability to fulfill our supply commitments, or to fulfill them in an economical manner, which will have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 29. *Our top 10 customers for Fiscal 2015 accounted for 65.51% of our total revenue from wholesale business in Fiscal 2015. We cannot assure you that sales from wholesale business will continue; if not, our income may decline.

Although we sell to a large number of customers in Ahmedabad, we are highly dependent on top 10 customers (in Fiscal 2015) for our wholesale business. For Fiscal 2015, 2014 and 2013, these customers have accounted approximately 65.51%, 26.61% and 21.57% of our total revenue from operations, respectively. Although we have maintained good and longstanding relationships with these customers, we do not have any long-term contract with either of them. The loss of either of these customers or a significant reduction in their orders would have a materially adverse effect on our income. For further details of sales to our top 10 customers (in Fiscal 2015), see section titled “Our Business” at page no. 93.

- 30. *We cannot assure you that we will pay dividend in future.

We have not paid any dividends in the last three financial years and there can be no assurance that dividends will be paid in future. The declaration of dividends in the future will be recommended by our Board, at its sole discretion, and will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements and capital expenditures. There can be no assurance that we will be able to pay dividend in the future. Further, we may be restricted by the terms of our debt financing from making dividend payments, in the event we default in any of the debt repayment installments.

- 31. *There is no monitoring agency appointed by our Company and the deployment of funds are at the discretion of our Management and our Board of Directors, though it shall be monitored by the Audit Committee.

As per SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2009 appointment of monitoring agency is required only for Issue size above Rs. 50,000 Lacs. Hence, we have not appointed a monitoring agency to monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds. However, the audit committee of our Board will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds.

Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the BSE Limited and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations / adverse comments of the audit committee public.

- 32. *We propose to utilize a part of the Net Proceeds for general corporate purpose and our management will have the discretion to deploy the funds.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds for purposes identified in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” and we propose to utilize the balance portion of the Net Proceeds towards general corporate purposes, namely, brand building exercises and strengthening of our marketing capabilities. The manner deployment and allocation of such funds is entirely at the discretion of our management and our Board, subject to compliance with the necessary provisions of the Companies Act.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 33. *Any changes in the regulatory framework could adversely affect our operations and growth prospects.

The company is subject to various regulations and policies. For details see section titled “Key Industry Regulations” beginning on page no. 98 of this Draft Prospectus. The company’s current businesses and prospects could be materially adversely affected by changes in any of these regulations and policies, including the introduction of new laws, policies or regulations or changes in the interpretation or application of existing laws, policies and regulations. There can be no assurance that it will succeed in obtaining all requisite regulatory approvals in the future for its operations or that compliance issues will not be raised in respect of its operations, either of which could have a material adverse affect on the business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 34. *Our business is subject to a significant number of tax regimes and changes in legislation governing the rules implementing them or the regulator enforcing them in any one of those jurisdictions could negatively and adversely affect our results of operations.

The revenues recorded and income earned is taxed on differing bases, including net income actually earned, net income deemed earned and revenue-based tax withholding. The final determination of the tax liabilities involves the interpretation of local tax laws as well as the significant use of estimates and assumptions regarding the scope of future operations and results achieved and the timing and nature of income earned and expenditures incurred. Changes in the operating environment, including changes in tax laws, could impact the determination of the tax liabilities of our Company for any year.

35. Natural calamities and force majeure events may have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, a tsunami, floods and drought in the past few years. These natural disasters may cause significant interruption to our operations, and damage to the environment that could have a material adverse impact on us. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their impact on the Indian economy. Further prolonged spells of deficient or abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities in the future could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, adversely affecting our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

36. Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence in India and around the region could adversely affect the markets, resulting in loss of consumer confidence and adversely affect the business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence or war in India and around the region may adversely affect worldwide financial markets and result in a loss of consumer confidence and ultimately adversely affect the business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Political tensions could create a perception that an investment in Indian companies involves higher degrees of risk and on the business and price of the Equity Shares.

37. Civil disturbances, extremities of weather, regional conflicts and other political instability may have adverse affects on our operations and financial performance.

Certain events that are beyond the company's control such as earthquake, fire, floods and similar natural calamities may cause interruptions in the business operations. The operations and financial results and the market price and liquidity of the equity shares may be affected by changes in Indian Government policy or taxation or social, ethnic, political, economic or other adverse developments in or affecting India. In addition, any political instability in India may adversely affect the Indian economy and the Indian securities markets in general, which could also affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

38. In future the company may depend on banks and financial institutions and other sources for meeting its short and medium term financial requirements.

Any delay in the disbursement of funds from these bodies can act as a bottleneck to the project execution capabilities and thereby its results of operations. The company cannot assure that it will be able to do so on commercially reasonable terms. Any increase in interest expense may have a material adverse effect on its business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

39. Increases in interest rates may affect the results of operations.

Currently, the company does not have any debt, but it cannot be assured that it will not incur indebtedness with a floating rate of interest in the future. As such, increases in interest rates may adversely affect the cost of future borrowings.

The company has not entered into any interest rate hedging or swaps transactions. It cannot be assured to the prospective investor that the company, if it does not enter into any interest rate hedging or swap transactions, will be able to do so on commercially reasonable terms, or that any of such agreements will protect the company fully against interest rate risk. Any increase in interest expense may have an adverse impact on its business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

40. The company's business and activities may be affected by the recent amendments to the competition law in India.

The Parliament has enacted the Competition Act, 2002, as amended, (the "Competition Act") for the purpose of preventing practices having an adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India under the auspices of the Competition Commission of India (the "CCI"). Under the Competition Act, any arrangement, understanding or action whether or not formal or informal which causes or is likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition is void and attracts substantial penalties. Any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, or shares the market by way of geographical area or number of customers in the relevant market is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India and shall be void. Further, the Competition Act prohibits abuse of dominant position by any enterprise. If it is proved that the contravention committed by a company took place with the consent or connivance or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of such company, that person shall be guilty of the contravention and liable to be punished.

On March 4, 2011 the Government of India notified and brought into force the combination regulation (merger control) provisions under the Competition Act with effect from June 1, 2011. The combination regulation provisions require that acquisition of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations which cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds shall be mandatorily notified to and pre-approved by the CCI. In addition, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued the final Competition Commission of India (Procedure in regard to the transaction of business relating to combinations) Regulations, 2011 which sets out the mechanism for implementation of the combination regulation provisions under the Competition Act. It is unclear as to how the Competition Act and the CCI will affect the business environment in India.

If the company is adversely impacted, directly or indirectly, by any provision of the Competition Act, or its application or interpretation, generally or specifically in relation to any merger, amalgamation or acquisition proposed by the company, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, either suo moto or pursuant to any complaint, for alleged violation of any provisions of the Competition Act it may have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of operations.

SECTION IV - INTRODUCTION

SUMMARY OF INDUSTRY

The information in this section has not been independently verified by us, the Lead Manager or any of our or their respective affiliates or advisors. The information may not be consistent with other information compiled by third parties within or outside India. Industry sources and publications generally state that the information contained therein has been obtained from sources it believes to be reliable, but their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their reliability cannot be assured. Industry and government publications are also prepared based on information as of specific dates and may no longer be current or reflect current trends. Industry and government sources and publications may also base their information on estimates, forecasts and assumptions which may prove to be incorrect. Accordingly, investment decisions should not be based on such information.

The gems and jewellery industry is crucial to the Indian economy given its role in large-scale employment generation, foreign exchange earnings through exports, and value addition. The industry has gained global popularity because of its talented craftsmen, its superior practices in cutting and polishing fine diamonds and precious stones and its cost-efficiencies.

The two major segments of the sector in India are gold jewellery and diamonds. The country is the largest consumer of gold, accounting for more than 20% of the total world gold consumption. Gold jewellery forms around 80% of the Indian jewellery market, with the balance comprising fabricated studded jewellery that includes diamond and gemstone studded jewellery. A predominant portion of the gold jewellery manufactured in India is consumed in the domestic market.

The industry contributes more than 14% towards the total export in India and provides employment to 1.3 million people directly and indirectly. The global market for gems and jewellery is over USD100 billion with major contribution coming from India, Italy, China, Thailand and USA.

The demand in India can be segmented into consumption and investment. Unlike most other countries, investment demand for gold is important in India and accounts for about 45 percent of total market demand. Around 57 percent of the investment demand comes from bars and coins, while the rest comes from jewellery. The high investment demand is driven by a lack of alternative financial institutions for a large section of society, a perceived capacity to hedge against inflation, ability to invest smaller value in gold, high returns in gold over the past 12 years and ease of investing unaccounted money in gold. Also, while the volume-demand for gold as jewellery has remained more or less constant over 2005 to 2013, the volume demand for gold bars and coins have grown at a CAGR of around 13 percent in the same period.

From a supply side, the value chain consists of imports, mining, refining, trading, manufacturing, and retailing. This includes a mix of players catering to both consumption and investment demand. The Indian gems and jewellery industry is fragmented, with local players constituting about 80 percent of the overall market. The variances in consumer preferences in designs, quality, and material across different regions have historically presented a challenge for national and organized players to create design-led differentiation. The share of organized players in the industry is growing, specifically that of regional players. However, there is a risk of reversal in this trend due to increasing regulatory restrictions on gold imports and the price differential between the official and unofficial supply of gold in the market. The supply side is also characterized by several local and independent stores in rural areas that play the role of financing entity, providing customers an investment option and lending money against gold.

Structure of the Industry:

The sector is highly-fragmented and unorganized, and is characterized by family-owned operations. Around 96% of the gems and jewellery players have family-owned businesses, but, over the last few years, more organized players have been entering the sector. The products in the sector can be categorized as gemstones, jewellery and pearls, which can be further segmented into diamonds, colored stones (precious, semi-precious and synthetic), studded jewellery, costume jewellery, gold and silver.

However, diamond and gold are the two most important segments of the Indian gems and jewellery sector. Diamond processing in the form of cutting and polishing is a major industry in India. However, a majority of these processed diamonds are exported either in polished form or as diamond jewellery globally. On the other hand, the gold jewellery is mostly meant for domestic consumption as India is the largest consumer of gold.

Gem & Jewellery Industry in FY 2014-15

The Gem & Jewellery Industry ends FY 2014-15 on an optimistic note, despite tumultuous global economic conditions and drop in exports. The Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) released the annual performance for the Indian Gem & Jewellery sector, declaring a contribution of US$ 39898.81 million to India's coffers in terms of foreign exchange earnings. In the year 2014-15, the G&J industry successfully battled several economic issues including the downturn in China, the political and terrorist unrest in Middle East, declining European market and the suffering Russian Ruble, which had a direct and adverse impact on the G&J exports that saw a downward trend. However, the foresight and agility of GJEPC and the industry helped survive in these trying times, owing to the significant actions taken towards divesting in the USA and UAE to boost export trade from India.

The lower costs of importing roughs through the Special Notified Zone (SNZ) establishment in India is anticipated to benefit the Indian G&J industry hugely in the coming years and will result in an upward growth curve, very soon. The Council and members of the industry applaud the Govt. for having scrapped the 80:20 rule that has immediately boosted the exports of gold jewelry.

Employment: The industry provides direct employment to roughly 2.5 million people and has the potential to generate employment of 0.7–1.5 million over the next five years. This is comparable to the 2.1 million employments provided by IT services and is 2.5 times that provided by basic iron and steel manufacturing and automotive manufacturing.

Government Initiatives

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has liberalized gold import norms. With this, star and premier export houses can import the commodity, while banks and nominated agencies can offer gold for domestic use as loans to bullion traders and jewelers. Also, India has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Russia to source data on diamond trade between the two countries. India is the top global processor of diamonds, while Russia is the largest rough diamond producer. The Government of India is planning to establish a special zone with tax benefits for diamond import and trading in Mumbai, in an effort to develop the city as a rival to Antwerp and Dubai, which are currently the top trading hubs for diamond.

In another significant development, the Gems and Jewellery Skill Council of India is planning to train over four million persons till 2022 as the sector is facing shortage of skilled manpower. The council aims to train, skill and enhance 4.07 million people by 2022. The council will tie-up with the existing training institutes including Gemological Institute of America (GIA) and Indian Gemological Institute (IGI), along with setting up of new institutes in major diamond cutting and processing centres, Gems & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) said in a statement here.

Further, formal approval has been given to 13 SEZs in the sector — three have got in-principal approval and seven have been notified, as per the SEZ Board of Approval statistics.

Foreign Direct Investment Policy:

- At present, the Indian government allows 100% foreign direct investment (FDI) in gems and jewellery through the automatic route.
- For exploration and mining of diamonds and precious stones FDI is allowed up to 74% under the automatic route.
- For exploration and mining of gold and silver and minerals other than diamonds and precious stones, metallurgy and processing, FDI is allowed up to 100% under the automatic route.

The gems and jewellery industry is crucial to the Indian economy given its role in large-scale employment generation, foreign exchange earnings through exports, and value addition. The industry has gained global popularity because of its talented craftsmen, its superior practices in cutting and polishing fine diamonds and precious stones and its cost-efficiencies.

The two major segments of the sector in India are gold jewellery and diamonds. The country is the largest consumer of gold, accounting for more than 20% of the total world gold consumption. Gold jewellery forms around 80% of the Indian jewellery market, with the balance comprising fabricated studded jewellery that includes diamond and gemstone studded jewellery. A predominant portion of the gold jewellery manufactured in India is consumed in the domestic market.

The industry contributes more than 14% towards the total export in India and provides employment to 1.3 million people directly and indirectly. The global market for gems and jewellery is over USD100 billion with major contribution coming from India, Italy, China, Thailand and USA.

The demand in India can be segmented into consumption and investment. Unlike most other countries, investment demand for gold is important in India and accounts for about 45 percent of total market demand. Around 57 percent of the investment demand comes from bars and coins, while the rest comes from jewellery. The high investment demand is driven by a lack of alternative financial institutions for a large section of society, a perceived capacity to hedge against inflation, ability to invest smaller value in gold, high returns in gold over the past 12 years and ease of investing unaccounted money in gold. Also, while the volume-demand for gold as jewellery has remained more or less constant over 2005 to 2013, the volume demand for gold bars and coins have grown at a CAGR of around 13 percent in the same period.

From a supply side, the value chain consists of imports, mining, refining, trading, manufacturing, and retailing. This includes a mix of players catering to both consumption and investment demand. The Indian gems and jewellery industry is fragmented, with local players constituting about 80 percent of the overall market. The variances in consumer preferences in designs, quality, and material across different regions have historically presented a challenge for national and organized players to create design-led differentiation. The share of organized players in the industry is growing, specifically that of regional players. However, there is a risk of reversal in this trend due to increasing regulatory restrictions on gold imports and the price differential between the official and unofficial supply of gold in the market. The supply side is also characterized by several local and independent stores in rural areas that play the role of financing entity, providing customers an investment option and lending money against gold.

Structure of the Industry:

The sector is highly-fragmented and unorganized, and is characterized by family-owned operations. Around 96% of the gems and jewellery players have family-owned businesses, but, over the last few years, more organized players have been entering the sector. The products in the sector can be categorized as gemstones, jewellery and pearls, which can be further segmented into diamonds, colored stones (precious, semi-precious and synthetic), studded jewellery, costume jewellery, gold and silver.

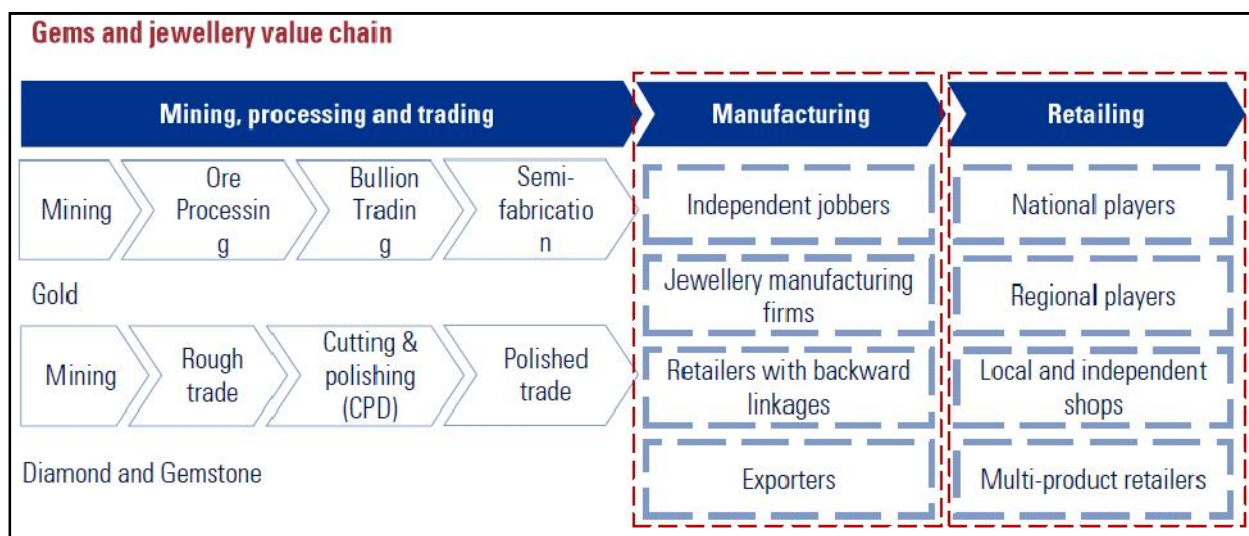

However, diamond and gold are the two most important segments of the Indian gems and jewellery sector. Diamond processing in the form of cutting and polishing is a major industry in India. However, a majority of these processed diamonds are exported either in polished form or as diamond jewellery globally. On the other hand, the gold jewellery is mostly meant for domestic consumption as India is the largest consumer of gold.

Value Chain of the Sector:

Mining, Processing and Trading

Gold: Expert estimates put India's gold mining history to be as old as 6,000–8,000 years. However, recent times have seen minimal gold mining in the country due to a multitude of factors. The environmental impact of open mining, dwindling known reserves, inadequate exploration expenditure, and inadequate use of the world's latest exploration and mining techniques, being some of these constraints that have fostered an unfavourable environment for investment.

Therefore, the sector is dependent on imports of gold in unwrought or semi-manufactured form. Although, recent years have also seen an upsurge in import of gold in the finished form as jewellery. Gold is imported by nominated banks, agencies and bullion banks, and select trading houses (star and premium). These importing agencies sell-on gold to dealers, jewellery manufacturers and retailers. Such sales are not open to retail consumers and are restricted to B2B transactions.

Diamond: The world currently mines 150 million carats worth of diamonds on an annual basis. The three biggest diamond centres in the world are Belgium (Antwerp — handling and CPD), India (Surat, Mumbai – CPD), and the US (New York, sales). Currently, diamonds processed in India account for 85 percent in volume, 92 percent in pieces and 60 percent in value of the total world diamond market.

Manufacturing: The jewellery manufacturing space in India is highly fragmented and characterized by small unorganized players who still account for the lion's share of the market. However, the last few years have seen large organized players emerging, with a greater focus on quality and design. They have brought on to the scene, modern and well organized units. The larger manufacturing units predominantly cater to the organized share of the retail market. Along these lines, retailers have also started backward integration across the value chain to garner higher margins by a greater share in the value addition process.

Retailing: Given the role of jewellery, as both a consumption and investment medium, and the population numbers in rural areas, local and independent stores account for almost four-fifths of the total retail outlets in India. There exist national and regional players who are trying to expand their footprint in the country through multiple avenues, such as associating with local jewellers and multi-product retailer points of sales.

Regulating Bodies for Gems and Jewellery Sector

Gems & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC)

Established in 1966, the GJEPC is the apex body of the Indian gems and jewellery industry, and has around 6,500 members across India. The primary goal of the Council is to introduce the Indian gems and jewellery to the international market and to promote their exports. The Council provides market information to its members regarding foreign trade inquiries, trade and tariff regulations, rates of import duties, and information about jewellery fairs and exhibitions. The roles played by the GJEPC are broadly highlighted below:

- Trade Facilitator: The Council promotes the Indian gems and jewellery industry in the international market. It organises international jewellery shows, hosts trade delegations, and undertakes image-building exercises through advertisements, publications and audio-visual means.
- Advisory Role: The Council also aids better interaction and understanding between traders and government. The Council takes up relevant issues with the government and agencies connected with exports. It also submits documents for consideration and inclusion in the Exim Policy.
- Nodal Agency for Kimberley Process Certification Scheme: GJEPC works closely with the Indian government and the traders to implement and oversee the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme; in fact, the Council has been appointed as the nodal agency in India under the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme.
- Training and Research: The GJEPC runs many institutes that provide training in all aspects of manufacturing and design in Mumbai, Delhi, Surat and Jaipur.
- Varied Interests: The Council publishes many brochures, statistical booklets, trade directories and a bi-monthly magazine - Solitaire International, which is distributed internationally as well as to its members.

Gem & Jewellery Trade Council of India (GJTCI)

The GJTCI was founded in 2000, and is tasked with resolving any issue arising from trade in gems and jewellery. It plays an important role in showcasing the Indian gems and jewellery to the international as well as the domestic market. Like the GJEPC, GJTCI also provides information to its members through a monthly newsletter, various educative and trade-motivational events such as seminars, workshops, exhibitions, festivals etc.

The Bureau of Indian Standards

The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS), the National Standards Body of India, is a statutory body set up under the Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 1986 and is responsible for hallmarking gold jewellery in India.

Gem & Jewellery Industry in FY 2014-15

The Gem & Jewellery Industry ends FY 2014-15 on an optimistic note, despite tumultuous global economic conditions and drop in exports. The Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) released the annual performance for the Indian Gem & Jewellery sector, declaring a contribution of US$ 39898.81 million to India's coffers in terms of foreign exchange earnings. In the year 2014-15, the G&J industry successfully battled several economic issues including the downturn in China, the political and terrorist unrest in Middle East, declining European market and the suffering Russian Ruble, which had a direct and adverse impact on the G&J exports that saw a downward trend. However, the foresight and agility of GJEPC and the industry helped survive in these trying times, owing to the significant actions taken towards divesting in the USA and UAE to boost export trade from India.

The lower costs of importing roughs through the Special Notified Zone (SNZ) establishment in India is anticipated to benefit the Indian G&J industry hugely in the coming years and will result in an upward growth curve, very soon. The Council and members of the industry applaud the Govt. for having scrapped the 80:20 rule that has immediately boosted the exports of gold jewelry.

Summary of 2014-2015 performance

- The overall gross exports of gems & Jewellery at US$ 39898.81 million (Rs. 243885.81 Crores) is showing a decline of 0.62% in dollar terms and growth of 0.43% in Rs term as compared to US$ 40147.50 million (Rs. 242837.07 Crores) for the period April 2013-March 2014.
- The overall gross imports of Gems & Jewellery at US$ 31470.78 million (Rs. 192074.99 Crores) is showing a growth of 1.29% (2.65% in Rs. term) as compared to US$ 31071.18 million (Rs. 187109.89 Crores) for the same period previous year.

This import is reflected through a positive impact on the exports of both plain and studded Gold and silver jewelry, propelling growth for Indian design and manufacturing sector.

Cut and Polished Diamonds

The overall gross export of Cut & Polished diamonds at US$ 23160.18 million (Rs. 141514.28 Crores) is showing a decline of 5.46% (-4.50% Rs. term) as compared to US$ 24498.48 million (Rs. 148185.20 Crores) for the same period of previous year. This can be attributed to the decline in volume terms of the gross Import of rough diamonds at 1473.41 Lakhs carats during April 2014 – March 2015 that has shown a decline of 9.06% compared with the imports at 1620.17 Lakhs carats during April 13 – March 14.

At the same time, the overall gross Imports of Cut & Polished diamonds at US$ 6943.07 million (Rs. 42410.19 Crores) is showing a growth of 6.15% (7.11% Rs. term) as compared to US$ 6540.77 million (Rs. 39585.97 Crores) for the same period of previous year. Gross Imports of rough diamonds at US$ 16740.85 million (Rs 102131.80 Crores) in April 2014 – March 2015 have shown a growth of 0.15% (+ 1.75 % Rs. term) compared with the imports at US$ 16716.22 million (Rs. 100377.27 Crores) for April 13 – March 14, owing to the increasing costs due to the anticipated shortage of roughs as compared to the increasing demand of diamond.

Gold & Silver Jewellery

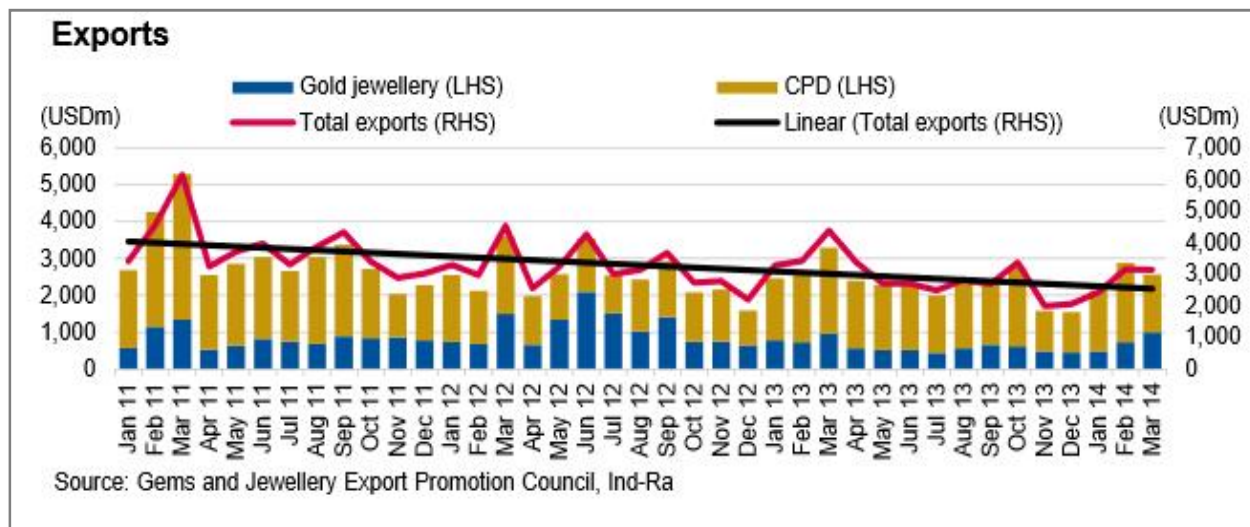

Provisional gross export of Gold jewellery for the period April 14 – March 15 at US$ 9852.18 million (Rs. 60198.63 Crores) shows growth of 17.77% (18.64% Rs. term) over the comparative figure of US$ 8365.68 million (Rs. 50738.85 Crores) for April 13 – March 14. Provisional gross export of Silver Jewellery for the period April 14 - March 15 at US$ 2054.52 million (Rs. 12583.73 Crores) shows growth of 39.29% (41.41% Rs. term) over the comparative figure of US$ 1475.02 million (Rs. 8898.78 Crores) for April 13 – March 2014. This growth stands testimony to the design and manufacturing excellence of the Indian G & J sector and a true reflection of PM Modi's 'Made in India' vision.

Currently however the market is fragmented across the value chain. There are more than 300,000 Gems & Jewellery players across the country, with majority being small players. Modern retail players have only 4%-6% share, which is perhaps one of the lowest when compared to Apparel (20%), Footwear (35%), Books and Music (11%) and CDIT (7%). The industry has also lagged behind relatively to attract the capital; professionals and process/technology know-how to scale up the operations and take the industry into a different orbit.

Traditional jewellery retail is essentially characterized by commoditized selling with “price” being the selling point in most cases. As 94-96% % of the retail is unorganized it is a great challenge to address the collective problems of a fragmented industry with a very traditional and sometimes change –resistant mindset.

Employment: The industry provides direct employment to roughly 2.5 million people and has the potential to generate employment of 0.7–1.5 million over the next five years. This is comparable to the 2.1 million employments provided by IT services and is 2.5 times that provided by basic iron and steel manufacturing and automotive manufacturing.

Growth Drivers, Opportunities & Challenges of the Gems & Jewellery Sector in India

Growth Drivers and Opportunities

➤ Growing Spending Power

Despite recent slowdown, the move from a “Pyramid” to a “Diamond” shaped structure of the Indian consumer segments is well and truly underway. With a real GDP of ~US$ 1.0 trillion, Globals, Strivers & Seekers are projected to grow at 11%, 9% and 18% respectively, over the next 10 years. With this, India’s affluent & rich will number more than the adult populations of many large countries. The new Indian consumers demand greater transparency, better service and a more compelling value proposition driven by brand and fashion. At the same time they are also willing to pay justified premium for the right proposition and design. The key here would be to position jewellery as a lifestyle product.

➤ Low Cost of Labour

The low cost of labour for cutting and polishing of diamonds has made India an attractive destination for diamond processing. Further, the diamond jewellery that is produced at a cost of US$ 60 to US$ 90 fetches around US$ 180 in the international markets, which leaves a huge margin for the retailer.

➤ Availability of Skilled Craftsmen

Jewellery manufacturing is an ancient industry in India therefore it has a huge population of skilled artisans/craftsmen. The true strengths of the jewellery industry are its beautiful handcrafted articles that are intricate and comparable to world-class designs and the Indian craftsmen who have achieved excellence in this art. Furthermore, India is famous for processing very small diamonds that requires immense skill, which the Indian artisans seem to have developed over the years. These advantages help India score over its peers.

➤ Rise in Number of Working Women

Over the last few years, there has been a spurt in the number of working women. This trend has not only empowered women financially but also has changed their general attitude; as a result, there has been a growth in purchase of gems and jewellery by this segment, mostly for jewellery that can be worn at work and for social occasions. The increase in purchasing power of working women and their changing fashion needs has pushed up the growth in the gems and jewellery sector.

➤ Favourable Government Policies

The abolition of the Gold Control Act in 1992, opening up the gold and diamond mining to private foreign investors, concessional / low import duties have all been instrumental in increasing the demand for Indian gems and jewellery sector.

➤ Nurturing New Talent

The government has set up various training institutes to attract quality personnel, to cater to the international market and to focus on constant innovation of globally-acceptable designs. These institutes were set up to provide the gems and jewellery sector with a well-trained professional workforce that is proficient in all aspects of jewellery design, refining, model making, jewellery manufacturing, CAD / CAM, gemmology and diamond grading.

➤ Adoption of Kimberly Process Certification System

India is a member of the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme (KPCS) that promotes conflict-free diamonds and thrives to prevent smuggling and non-standard trade in diamonds. Under the KPCS, import or export of all rough diamonds in India is permitted only if the shipment is accompanied by the Kimberley Process Certificate, which has not only increased the credibility of diamonds processed in India in the global market but also has boosted its exports.

➤ Increased Awareness and Changing Preferences

There is a rise in awareness about diamonds in the Indian market. Various initiatives are being undertaken by major diamond producers, retailers and industry bodies about portraying diamonds as exotic as well as affordable. Increased promotion by retailers has made consumers aware of the diamond jewellery and have created demand from various segments, which include people from all age groups. The trend of buying jewellery only during special occasions such as weddings and festivals has gradually changed.

➤ Development of SEZs

The government has set up various SEZs to provide special incentives to the highly export-oriented sector. The SEZs have units catering to designing, cutting and polishing of jewellery. The development of SEZs for gems and jewellery has facilitated the growth and has enhanced the trade potential for the sector.

➤ Value Addition

There exists a huge opportunity for Indian players to do value addition to the processed diamonds and to export diamond studded jewellery. India is already a leader in processing small-sized diamonds and it also has inherent capabilities of manufacturing hand-crafted jewellery. Further, with its dominance in processing small diamonds, India has an advantage of manufacturing affordable diamond jewellery for the world market.

➤ Jewellery Retail

The Indian retail sector is growing rapidly. This provides an excellent opportunity for the Indian players to manufacture and sell their jewellery through the retail channels that are fast catching up in the Indian markets. Further, this move will also provide an organized structure to the largely unorganized gems and jewellery sector and lead to further growth of the sector.

➤ Outsourcing Hub

India can become an outsourcing hub for designing and manufacturing jewellery. There is an increased trend of outsourcing designing and manufacturing of jewellery from India by global retail players such as Wal-mart and JC Penny. The players in the sector can tap this opportunity to diversify business, reduce risk and increase revenues.

CHALLENGES

➤ Competing for Share of Wallet –Expenditure and Investments

The inaction in the past by the industry has led to gems and jewellery taking lower share of growing wallet of the Indian consumers. The increased activities and vibrant industry in other categories like Telecom, Apparel, CDIT, Entertainment, Watches, Vacations and other lifestyle products have possibly taken away some money from the gems & jewellery brands /retailers. This is especially true for younger consumers. Studying the sectoral rankings below, we see that while telecom has overtaken Gems & Jewellery due to the explosion in mobile in recent years in the coming years threat could come from Travel & Leisure and CDIT which are all growing at a faster pace especially with young consumers.

The approach so far has been “one size fit all” (barring few) -traditional designs being served to all sections of the society. The new segment which are emerging like the BPO /Service oriented young middle class require

- a) “Affordable”,
- b) “Fashionable”,
- c) which can be purchased “Frequently”,
- d) “Available” off the shelves with
- e) Certification for providing the much desired assurance.

These kinds of products are by and large missing from the market. As a result the industry is losing traction relative to other emerging categories like watches, mobile phones and other lifestyle products. Similarly there is a business case for catering to the consumers in the upper tier of bottom of the pyramid. The reason is that unlike others segments they do not have many avenues other than jewellery to invest their money. Innovative measure such as availability at gold exchanges, making affordable branded /certified products, and gold asset monetization possibilities could really help in unlock the potential for this large segment.

The imperative for brands and retailers is to understand the various consumer segments and make customized propositions and suitable designs which have been missing resulting in its lower preference in comparison with other emerging categories. In this regard, the industry can draw our significant learning's from the other similar industries like watches, which has very successfully positioned a functional category as lifestyle accessory and a fashion statement thereby creating significantly value. In the process some of these players have clearly moved away from cost+ approach and have increased consumer willingness to pay more. The international diamond jewellery value chain shown below proves how retailing adds the maximum value in jewellery and this should inspire us to move from the material + making charge pricing we see in Indian jewellery retail, towards brand and design led pricing.

Further in the last two decades several alternative investment options such as stocks and real estate have emerged. Gold as an investment option is facing competition here as well. As per “The World Wealth Report” the investment in gold is less than 10% of the total investments for HNIs.

➤ Overregulated consumption industry and under-developed investment industry

In terms of regulatory policy, there is a lack of differentiation between investment demand and consumption demand. As a result, while imports have surged primarily to feed investment demand, regulations have also constrained consumption demand. There is no clear policy on the investment demand of gold.

➤ Large investment demand and associated supply infrastructure

There is substantial investment demand in both jewellery and bars and coins form. This is due to the great attractiveness of gold as an investment option, the limitations of alternate investment options, and the inadequacies of financial products backed by gold. However, bars and coins in particular have limited value addition and thus make a limited contribution to industry growth. Further, the investment demand adds to the import burden, leading to regulatory actions that impact the industry. There are a number of jewelers that cater primarily to investment demand, especially in rural and semi-urban areas.

➤ Perception of opaqueness

The industry is fragmented with MSME-sector dominance. Over the last decade, there has been considerable increase in share of organized sector and corresponding transparency. However, there is still a perception of opaqueness, particularly due to the fragmented nature of the industry. As we have seen over last five years with share of national and regional chains increasing from 3 to 5 percent and 7 to 17 percent respectively, this perception is improving. We expect this perception to further improve in long run.

➤ Limited financing options

The industry faces difficulties in availing financing options. Further, the unavailability of Gold (Metal) Loans has increased the cost of financing for domestic jewelers. Traditional financing is costly due to high input costs.

➤ Risk of talent shortage

The industry’s on-the-job training model leads to longer training time and creates gaps in availability of industry best practices and standardization, mainly for the fragmented part of the industry. This is coupled with gaps in infrastructure, lower demand for institution-trained workers in the fragmented part of the industry, and low attractiveness of the industry to the younger generation of employees.

➤ Limited research and technology adoption

Innovation is critical for success in the export market and for growing the domestic segment. This requires the use of modern design and the latest technology. While the industry is adept at traditional designs, there is a lack of design-led innovations. Adding to this are sub-scale facilities that limit the use of modern technology.

Given these challenges, it is crucial to drive a comprehensive transformation of the industry to ensure sustainable growth and greater contribution to the Indian economy through higher exports and value addition. While several initiatives would benefit the industry, there are six broad themes that can form the basis of action for the industry, Government, RBI, and other stakeholders.³ The various stakeholders can draw learning from Turkey and Dubai where the gems and jewellery market has witnessed significant transformation.

The Indian industry can perhaps learn significantly from Turkey where the industrialization of the jewelry segment has transformed it into the one representing the modern flexible production techniques, supreme craftsmanship, excellent quality and immense variety. In the mid 90's, firms started to employ designers and now most of the world design teams work in Turkey. There are several design departments in the universities and vocational design institutes. Currently the major firms can 10 designs with 70-80 variations per day.

Financing

A good funding instrument has one or more of the following characteristics: -

- Easy to access
- Friendly terms (interest, collateral, repayment etc)
- Tailored to specific needs of the borrower

As shown in the exhibit below there is a dearth of innovative financing options at the retail end though good options are available to the remaining value chain. Imparting industry status to the sector can help a long way in facilitating the flow of much needed finances to retail.

The sector is witnessing changes in consumer preferences, as the westernization of lifestyle is responsible for changes in the buying habits of the consumer. Consumers are demanding new designs and varieties in jewellery, and branded jewelers are able to fulfill their changing demands better than the local unorganized players. Increase in per capita income has led to an increase in sales of jewellery, as jewellery is a status symbol in India.

- Jewellery major Joyalukkas has planned to invest Rs 1,500 Crores (US$ 241.74 million) on its expansion plan that entails setting up 20 stores in India and 10 overseas. The new stores, which will come up almost in a year's time, will add to the Thrissur-headquartered company's existing 95 outlets.
- London-headquartered Gemfields, a multi-national firm specializing in colour gemstones mining and marketing, is planning to acquire colour gemstone mines in Odisha and Jharkhand, and participate in the exploration of the Kashmir sapphire mines in Jammu & Kashmir.
- In one of the largest private equity (PE) deals in the jewellery manufacturing segment, the India arm of US private equity (PE) firm Warburg Pincus has picked up a minority stake in Kerala-based jewellery maker and retailer Kalyan Jewellers for Rs 1,200 Crores (US$ 193.41 million). The jeweler will use the proceeds from the deal to fund its retail and manufacturing expansion plans.
- The government is discussing a plan to set up a special zone with tax benefits for diamond import and trading in Mumbai, to try and develop the country's financial capital as a competitor to Antwerp and Dubai, which are currently trading hubs for the precious stone.
- Well-known jewellery retailer In India Tribhovandas Bhimji Zaveri Limited (TBZ) is inviting franchisees to be a part of its jewellery retailing business. Through the TBZ Franchising opportunity, entrepreneurs can open TBZ-The Original stores across India and retail the brand's product, which includes over 20,000 in-house designs. TBZ Ltd plans to open franchisees in cities across India where it is not present at this point of time through its exclusive brand outlets (EBOs).

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has liberalized gold import norms. With this, star and premier export houses can import the commodity, while banks and nominated agencies can offer gold for domestic use as loans to bullion traders and jewelers. Also, India has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Russia to source data on diamond trade between the two countries. India is the top global processor of diamonds, while Russia is the largest rough diamond producer. The Government of India is planning to establish a special zone with tax benefits for diamond import and trading in Mumbai, in an effort to develop the city as a rival to Antwerp and Dubai, which are currently the top trading hubs for diamond.

In another significant development, the Gems and Jewellery Skill Council of India is planning to train over four million persons till 2022 as the sector is facing shortage of skilled manpower. The council aims to train, skill and enhance 4.07 million people by 2022. The council will tie-up with the existing training institutes including Gemological Institute of America (GIA) and Indian Gemological Institute (IGI), along with setting up of new institutes in major diamond cutting and processing centres, Gems & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) said in a statement here.

Gems and jewellery SEZs have been set up to promote investments in the sector. The names of operational SEZs in the sector are SEEPZ Special Economic Zone, Mumbai; Manikanchan SEZ, West Bengal; Jaipur SEZ; and Hyderabad Gems SEZ Ltd. Further, formal approval has been given to 13 SEZs in the sector — three have got in-principal approval and seven have been notified, as per the SEZ Board of Approval statistics.

Foreign Direct Investment Policy:

- For exploration and mining of diamonds and precious stones FDI is allowed up to 74% under the automatic route.
- For exploration and mining of gold and silver and minerals other than diamonds and precious stones, metallurgy and processing, FDI is allowed up to 100% under the automatic route.

Road Ahead

In the coming years, growth in the industry would be highly contributed with the development of the large retailers/brands. Established brands are guiding the organized market and are opening opportunities to grow. Increasing penetration of organized players provides variety in terms of products and designs. These players are also offering financing schemes to consumers to further boost sales. Also, the relaxation of restrictions of gold import is likely to provide a fillip to the industry. The improvement in availability along with the reintroduction of low cost gold metal loans and likely stabilization of gold prices at lower levels is expected to drive volume growth for jewelers over short to medium term. The demand for jewellery is expected to be significantly supported by the recent positive developments in the industry.

Source: <http://www.ibef.org/industry/gems-jewellery-india.aspx>

Annual global sales of €148 billion are expected to grow at a healthy clip of 5 to 6 percent each year, totaling €250 billion by 2020. Consumer appetite for jewelry, which was dampened by the global recession, now appears more voracious than ever.

But the industry is as dynamic as it is fast growing. Consequential changes are under way, both in consumer behavior as well as in the industry itself. Jewelry players can't simply do business as usual and expect to thrive; they must be alert and responsive to important trends and developments or else risk being left behind by more agile competitors.

E-Commerce in Jewellery

In India, where buying gold traditionally means a trip to the trusted family jeweler, a growing e-commerce market forecast at $22 billion in three years is starting to challenge all conventional wisdom. Jewelers are tying-up with Amazon.com Inc., Flipkart Online Services Pvt. and Ebay Inc. after the government last year eased import curbs on gold bars and coins. The total online retail market in India will be about $6 billion this year because of free delivery and heavy discounting, Gartner Inc. estimates. That may grow to $22 billion by 2018, CLSA Asia Pacific Markets predicts.

Offering convenience

The Mumbai-based company, whose sales declined 24% to Rs.12,436 crore ($2 billion) in the year through March 2014 because of import restrictions, now retails through platforms including Amazon.com, Flipkart.com, EBay, and Jewelsouk, Choksi said.

Established retailers are looking at online stores already selling jewellery, besides promoting their own, according to Gaurav Singh Kushwaha, founder and chief executive officer of BlueStone, which sells everything from solitaires, rings, earrings, pendants, bangles and bracelets.

The online jewellery market may be worth as much as $2.5 billion in the next five to 10 years, BlueStone estimates. Currently it accounts for less than 0.1% of the $55 billion jewellery market, it says.

Topping China

Indians bought 662 metric tonnes of gold jewellery valued at $26.9 billion in 2014, the most since 1995, the World Gold Council said last month. Total demand including for gold bars and coins was 842.7 tonnes, helping India surpass China as the world's largest consumer last year, the council said.

Bullion demand is seen expanding this year to between 900 tonnes to 1,000 tonnes, the council says. Bullion is bought in India during festivals and marriages as part of the bridal trousseau or gifted in the form of jewellery by relatives.

Shares of some Indian jewelers have advanced after the government relaxed most restrictions on imports. Titan Co., the biggest by market value, has rallied 57 percent in the past year, compared with a 30% gain in the benchmark S&P BSE Sensex. PC Jeweller Ltd. more than tripled in the same period, while Gitanjali declined 23%.

The online market allows companies to offer customers a wider choice of designs without actually keeping physical stocks, said Rajeev Sheth, chairman of Tara Jewels Ltd., which began selling through Amazon starting December.

Foreign Investment

While under India’s current Foreign Direct Investment (“FDI”) Policy, effective from April 10, 2012, FDI up to 100% through the automatic route is permitted in the gems and jewellery sector, FDI in retail trading is restricted. Subject to certain conditions, FDI up to 100% through the government route, in the retail trading of ‘single brand’ products is allowed and FDI up to 51% through the government route, in the retail trading of ‘multi-brand’ products is permitted.

Investment by Foreign Institutional Investors

Foreign institutional investors (“FIIs”) including institutions such as pension funds, investment trusts, asset management companies, nominee companies and incorporated, institutional portfolio managers can invest in all the securities traded on the primary and secondary markets in India. FIIs are required to obtain an initial registration from SEBI and a general permission from RBI to engage in transactions regulated under Foreign Exchange Management Act, 2000. FIIs must also comply with the provisions of the SEBI (Foreign Institutional Investors) Regulations, 1995, as amended from time to time. The initial registration and RBI’s general permission together enable a registered FII to buy (subject to the ownership restrictions discussed below) and sell freely securities issued by Indian companies, to realize capital gains or investments made through the initial amount invested in India, to subscribe or renounce rights issues for shares, to appoint a domestic custodian for custody of investments held and to repatriate the capital, capital gains, dividends, income received by way of interest and any compensation received towards sale or renunciation of rights issues of shares.

Ownership restrictions of FIIs

Under the portfolio investment scheme specified in Schedule 2 of the Foreign Exchange Management Act (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2000 (the “FEMA 20”), the overall issue of equity shares to FIIs on a repatriation basis should not exceed 24% of post-issue paid up capital of the company. However, the limit of 24% can be raised up to the permitted sectoral cap for that company after approval of the board of directors and approval of the shareholders of the company by way of a special resolution. The holding of equity shares of a single FII should not exceed 10% of the post issue paid up capital of the company. In respect of an FII investing in equity shares of a company on behalf of its sub-accounts, the investment on behalf of each sub-account shall not exceed 10% of the total issued capital of that company.

Foreign Trade Policy 2009-2014

The revised foreign trade policy for the period of 2009- 2014 issued by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, GoI includes gems and jewellery within the initiatives identified for special focus. The objective behind declaring a sector as a sector with special focus is to increase the percentage share of global trade in relation to that sector and expanding employment opportunities within the sector. The GoI has provided an impetus to the gems and jewellery industry with the following trade policies:

- i) Import of gold of 8 carat and above under replenishment scheme subject to import being accompanied by a specified certificate specifying the purity, weight and alloy content;
- ii) Duty free import of consumables, for jewellery made out of:

Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council

The GoI has designated the Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (“GJEPC”) as the importing and exporting authority in India in keeping with its international obligations under Section IV(b) of the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme (“KPCS”). The GJEPC has been notified as the nodal agency for trade in rough diamonds. The KPCS is a joint government, international diamond and civil society initiative to stem the flow of conflict diamonds, which are rough diamonds used by rebel movements to finance wars against legitimate governments. The KPCS comprises participating governments that represent approximately 99.8% of the world trade in rough diamonds. The KPCS has been implemented in India from January 1, 2003 by the GoI through communication No. 12/13/2000-EP (GJ) dated November 13, 2002. However, under the Special Economic Zones Rules, 2006, the Development Commissioners have been delegated powers to issue Kimberley Process Certificates for units situated in the respective Special Economic Zone (the “SEZ”).

RBI Circulars regulating Gold Loans

The RBI has permitted nominated banks to import gold for purposes of extending gold metal loans to domestic jewellery manufacturers subject to certain conditions, including that the tenor of the gold loans (which can be decided by the nominated banks) does not exceed 180 days from the date of procurement of gold and the interest charged to the borrowers is linked to the international gold rates.

The RBI has also permitted nominated agencies and approved banks to import gold on loan basis for on-lending to exporters of jewellery, subject to certain conditions, including that the maximum tenor of gold metal loans does not exceed 270 days from the date of procurement of gold by the exporter based on the foreign trade policy 2009-2014. Gems and jewellery export oriented units and specified units in SEZs are permitted to import gold on a loan basis directly or through nominating agencies, subject to specified conditions.

Pursuant to the Second Quarter Review of the Monetary Policy 2012-13, issued by the RBI on October 30, 2012, the RBI has prohibited the banks from granting any advance against gold bullion to gold dealers or traders, if, in the assessment of the banks, such advances are likely to be utilized for purposes of financing gold purchase at auctions and/or speculative holding of stocks and bullion. In addition, the RBI has also sought to impose a prohibition on the banks from financing the purchase of gold in any form, other than working capital facilities.

Special Economic Zone (“SEZ”)

Special Economic Zones Act, 2005 (the “SEZ Act”)

SEZs are regulated and governed by the SEZ Act. The SEZ Act has been enacted for the establishment, development and management of the SEZs for the promotion of exports. An SEZ is a specifically delineated duty free enclave, deemed to be a foreign territory for the purposes of trade as well as duties and tariffs.

Initially, India had introduced the concept of the SEZ as a part of its foreign trade policy, 2000. This concept embodied Fiscal and regulatory concessions, which formed part of various laws, for example, Customs Act, 1962 Income-Tax Act, 1961 and Central Excise Act, 1944. Due to its relatively complex legal framework, it was unable to attract significant private investment and as a result the SEZ Act was enacted.

A board of approval (“SEZ Board”) has been set up under the SEZ Act, which is responsible for promoting the SEZ and ensuring its orderly development. The SEZ Board has a number of powers including the authority to approve proposals for the establishment of the SEZ, the operations to be carried out in the SEZ by the developer, the foreign collaborations and foreign direct investments.

The Special Economic Zone Rules, 2006 (the “SEZ Rules”)

The SEZ Rules have been enacted to effectively implement the provisions of the SEZ Act. The SEZ Rules provide for a simplified procedure for a single window clearance from central and state governments for setting up of SEZs and a ‘unit’ in SEZ. The SEZ Rules also prescribe the procedure for the operation and maintenance of an SEZ, for setting up and conducting business therein with an emphasis on ‘self certification’ and the terms and conditions subject to which entrepreneur and developer shall be entitled to exemptions, drawbacks and concessions etc. The SEZ Rules also provide for the minimum area requirement for various categories of SEZs.

The developer and/or a co-developer as the case may be is required to have at least 26 % of the equity in the entity proposing to create business, residential or recreational facilities in a SEZ in case such development is proposed to be carried out through a separate entity or special purpose vehicle being a company formed and registered under the Companies Act.

Importer Exporter Code

Under the Indian Foreign Trade Policy, 2004, no export or import can be made by a person or company without an Importer Exporter Code number unless such person/company is specifically exempted. An application for an Importer Exporter Code number has to be made to the office of the Joint Director General of Foreign Trade, Ministry of Commerce. An Importer Exporter Code number allotted to an applicant is valid for all its branches/divisions/ units/factories.

TAX RELATED LEGISLATIONS

Income Tax Act, 1961

Income Tax Act, 1961 is applicable to every Domestic / Foreign Company whose income is taxable under the provisions of this Act or Rules made under it depending upon its Residential Status and Type of Income involved. U/s 139(1) every Company is required to file its Income tax return for every Previous Year by 31st October of the Assessment Year. Other compliances like those relating to Tax Deduction at Source, Fringe Benefit Tax, Advance Tax, and Minimum Alternative Tax and the like are also required to be complied by every Company.

Value Added Tax (“VAT”) Act and Rules, 2008

The levy of Sales Tax within the state is governed by the Value Added Tax Act and Rules 2008 (the VAT Act) of the respective states. The VAT Act has addressed the problem of Cascading effect (double taxation) that were being levied under the hitherto system of sales tax. Under the current regime of VAT the trader of goods has to pay the tax (VAT) only on the Value added on the goods sold. Hence, VAT is a multi-point levy on each of the entities in the supply chain with the facility of set-off of input tax-that is the tax paid at the stage of purchase of goods by a trader and on purchase of raw materials by a manufacturer. Only the value addition in the hands of each of the entities is subject to tax. Periodical returns are required to be filed with the VAT Department of the respective States by the company.

Central Sales Tax Act, 1956

In accordance with the Central Sales Tax Act, every dealer registered under the Act shall be required to furnish a return in Form I (Monthly/ Quarterly/ Annually) as required by the State sale Tax laws of the assessee authority together with treasury challan or bank receipt in token of the payment of taxes due.

Customs Act, 1962

The provisions of the Customs Act, 1962 and rules made there under are applicable at the time of import of goods i.e. bringing into India from a place outside India or at the time of export of goods i.e. taken out of India to a place outside India. Any Company requiring to import or export any goods is first required to get itself registered and obtain an IEC (Importer Exporter Code).

Service Tax (Finance Act, 1994)

In accordance with Rule 6 of Service tax Rules the assessee is required to pay Service tax in TR 6 challan by fifth of the month immediately following the month to which it relates. Further under Rule 7 (1) of Service Tax Rules, the company is required to file a half yearly return in Form ST 3 by twenty fifth of the month immediately following the half year to which the return relates.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS LEGISLATIONS

The laws relating to intellectual property will also apply to the Company.

The Trade Marks Act, 1999

The Trade Marks Act, 1999 (“Trademark Act”) governs the statutory protection of trademarks in India. In India, trademarks enjoy protection under both statutory and common law. Indian trademarks law permits the registration of trademarks for goods and services. Certification trademarks and collective marks are also registrable under the Trade Mark Act. An application for trademark registration may be made by any person claiming to be the proprietor of a trademark and can be made on the basis of either current use or intention to use a trademark in the future. The registration of certain types of trademarks is absolutely prohibited, including trademarks that are not distinctive and which indicate the kind or quality of the goods.

Applications for a trademark registration may be made for in one or more international classes. Once granted, trademark registration is valid for 10 years unless cancelled. If not renewed after 10 years, the mark lapses and the registration for such mark has to be obtained afresh.

While both registered and unregistered trademarks are protected under Indian law, the registration of trademarks offers significant advantages to the registered owner, particularly with respect to proving infringement. Registered trademarks may be protected by means of an action for infringement, whereas unregistered trademarks may only be protected by means of the common law remedy of passing off. In case of the latter, the plaintiff must, prior to proving passing off, first prove that he is the owner of the trademark concerned. In contrast, the owner of a registered trademark is prima facie regarded as the owner of the mark by virtue of the registration obtained.

The Patents Act, 1970

The Patents Act, 1970 (‘Patents Act’) is the primary legislation governing patent protection in India. In addition to broadly requiring that an invention satisfy the requirements of novelty, utility and non obviousness in order for it to avail patent protection, the Patents Act further provides that patent protection may not be granted to certain specified types of inventions and materials even if they satisfy the above criteria. The term of a patent granted under the Patents Act is for a period of twenty years from the date of filing of application for the patent. The Patents Act deems that computer programs per se are not 'inventions' and are therefore, not entitled to patent protection. This position was diluted by The Patents Amendment Ordinance, 2004, which included as patentable subject matter:

1. Technical applications of computer programs to industry; and
2. Combinations of computer programs with the hardware.

However, the Patents Amendment Act, 2005, does not include this specific amendment and consequently, the Patents Act, as it currently stands, disentitles computer programs per se from patent, may disentitle the said invention to patent protection on grounds of lack of novelty. Under the Patents Act, an invention will be regarded as having ceased to be novel (and hence not patentable), inter alia, by the existence of:

1. Any earlier patent on such invention in any country;
2. Prior publication of information relating to such invention;
3. An earlier product showing the same invention; or
4. A prior disclosure or use of the invention that is sought to be patented.

Following its amendment by the Patents Amendment Act, 2005, the Patents Act permits opposition to grant of a patent to be made, both pre-grant and post-grant. The grounds for such patent opposition proceedings, inter alia, include lack of novelty, inventiveness and industrial applicability, non-disclosure or incorrect mention of source and geographical origin of biological material used in the invention and anticipation of invention by knowledge (oral or otherwise) available within any local or indigenous community in India or elsewhere. The Patents Act also prohibits any person resident in India from applying for patent for an invention outside India without making an application for the invention in India. Following a patent application in India, a resident must wait for six weeks prior to making a foreign application or may obtain the written permission of the Controller of Patents to make foreign applications prior to this six week period. The Controller of Patents is required to obtain the prior consent of the Central Government before granting any such permission in respect of inventions relevant for defense purpose or atomic energy. This prohibition on foreign applications does not apply, however, to an invention for which a patent application has first been filed in a country outside India by a person resident outside India.

Copyright Act, 1957

The Copyright Act, 1957 ("Copyright Act") protects original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic works, Cinematographic films and sound recordings from unauthorized use of such works. Unlike the case with patents, copyright protects the expressions and not the ideas. There is no copyright in an idea. The object of copyright law is to encourage authors, artists and composers to create original works by rewarding them with exclusive right for a fixed period to reproduce the works for commercial exploitation. Copyrights subsist in following class of works:

- a) Original literary, musical, dramatic and artistic works
- b) Cinematograph films
- c) Sound recordings

Under the copyright law the creator of the original expression in a work is its author who is vested with a set of exclusive rights with respect to the use and exploitation of the work. The author is also the owner of the copyright, unless there is a written agreement by which the author assigns the copyright to another person or entity, such as a publisher, where work is done under a 'work for hire' agreement, the copyright vests with the hirer, i.e., the person providing the work. The owner of copyright in a work can assign or license his copyright to any person, such as publisher, under a written agreement. Copyright subsists in a work since the time it comes into being. Therefore, registration of copyright neither creates any rights nor precludes enforcement of the existing ones. However, owing to its evidentiary value, a registered copyright is easier to establish in the court of law. The term of copyright varies across different types of works. In the case of broadcasts, the Act grants "broadcast reproduction rights" to broadcasting organizations which subsist for 25 years.
